

Menifee County Man Passes Away in Florida

During the closing hours of the Saturday session of the Menifee circuit court a message was received from Umatilla, Fla., announcing the death of former Circuit Clerk Doo Hicks, who had gone to Florida in search of health. Doe Hicks was one of the leading citizens of Menifee county and will be greatly missed in the varied walks of life. Mr. Hicks was about 55 years old, a native of Harrison county, and is survived by his wife and a son, 12 years old, and four brothers. He was a Master Mason, a member of the I. O. O. F. brotherhood and one of the Knights of Pythias. He was a member of the Presbyterian church. By his death the life of a good citizen, active business man and Christian gentleman closes. The body will be conveyed to Frenchburg for interment.

Father of Mrs. Senff Dies in Woodford

Captain James T. Williams, aged 74 years, father of Mrs. G. B. Senff, of this city, died at his home at Spring Station, Woodford county, last Thursday after a lingering illness. Captain Williams was in his earlier days a noted turfman and politician. He had owned and raced some of the greatest thoroughbreds that ever faced a barrier. He had often visited his daughter in this city where he made many friends who were grieved to hear of the death of this genial and highly honored citizen. Besides Mrs. Senff he is survived by three other children, Mrs. J. T. McGlothlin, of Frankfort; Mrs. R. N. Smith, of Madisonville, and Miss Laura Williams, of Spring Station. The funeral services were held at the late home Saturday, with burial in the Frankfort cemetery. Mrs. Senff has the deepest sympathy of her many friends in her said hour of sorrow.

Local Wool Pool Sold at Good Price

One hundred and twenty thousand pounds of wool, representing a two-years' clip, which had been pooled, was sold by Montgomery county farmers last week to Marcus & Herkeimer, of Baltimore, at 25 1-2 cents per pound. In addition to the above amount 80,000 pounds were purchased from other Kentucky counties at the same prices.

This will put money in the hands of many of our farmers when it is so badly needed and seems to have justified the holding of last year's crop.

Five Delegates To Be Selected Dec. 12

On Saturday, December 12, there will be an election held in each of the burley counties entering the newly formed Co-operative Tobacco Marketing Association to select delegates who will name one director from each district. In this county five delegates will be elected who will meet in conjunction with five selected from Bath county who will select one director to represent the district comprising these two counties. The committee on nominations, viz: Henry Hunt, William Highland, Joshua Owings, Jr., R. T. Judy, John Stoffer, L. L. Bridgforth and Robert Howell, have recommended the following names be placed on the ballot to be voted on as delegates in Montgomery county: W. C. Clay, G. D. Marshall, W. B. Robinson, Roy Byrd, J. D. Henry, J. F. Mark, W. S. Howell, W. L. Thompson, C. B. Hainline and J. D. Stoffer. In addition to these ten there will be blank lines on the ballot so that every member will have an opportunity of voting for whomsoever he may see fit by writing in the name of his choice, providing it is not on the ballot.

The ballots will be mailed from Lexington within a few days to every member of the association with complete instructions. There will be 22 directors selected by the delegates throughout the entire state who will then meet and proceed to organize.

The local organization headed by Clark B. Patterson, chairman, has made the most remarkable record of any county organization in the state, Montgomery county signing the highest percentage of any of the counties. It will be noted in the selection of the men to be voted on as delegates that they comprise the citizenship of almost every voting precinct in the county, and it is this same sense of fairness that has made the Montgomery county organization the leading one of the state.

Julian Corner Suffers Fire Loss

The Julian building, located on the corner of Main and Maysville streets was the scene of another disastrous fire Saturday night, when a blaze was discovered in rooms upstairs occupied by Stockton's Electric Dry Cleaning Co. Before the blaze could be extinguished the dry cleaning plant was practically a total loss, as were all the clothes belonging to various parties which had been sent to the establishment. Stockton's loss is estimated at $3,000, only about half covered by insurance. Below the dry cleaning company the clothing store of Hombs & Co. suffered heavily from smoke and water, but they were fortunate enough to be fully covered by insurance. Their loss will probably be more than fifty per cent on the entire stock.

The building, which is owned by Mrs. T. G. Julian, of Lexington, and who is now in Clearwater, Fla., was badly damaged and, it is understood, only $1,000 insurance was carried on the building. Stockton's Electric Dry Cleaning Co. owned and operated by E. W. Stockton, will move their quarters to the Wm. S. Lloyd building on Maysville street, while the Hombs Company has moved to the Old National Hotel building. Origin of the fire is unknown, but is thought to have caught from defective wiring.

County co-operative hull sales as a means of supplying a market for surplus animals from purebred herds and furnishing farmers with high-grade sires are being planned for a number of counties in the state, according to cattle specialists at the College of Agriculture. Sales already have been proposed for Wayne and Lincoln counties and it is probable that several others will adopt the idea.

During the past years breeders have not found a ready market for surplus bulls in their herds and in many cases have fed them out for the market as steers, according to the cattlemen. The sales which are being planned are expected not only to furnish a market for these animals, but also make it possible for farmers to obtain superior breeding animals at a reasonable price. All breeders having surplus sires will send them to an auction sale to be held at a central point in the county, according to present plans.

Mt. Sterling Tourists In St. Petersburg, Fla.

(By John Lodwick)

Of 7,500 early winter arrivals to reach St. Petersburg, Fla., for the season, 100 are from Kentucky and two of that number are from Mt. Sterling, while reservations have been made for seven others due in the "Sunshine City" on or before the Christmas holidays.

Mrs. N. A. Baume and Mrs. Mary B. Biggerstaff are the early arrivals from Mt. Sterling and are located for the season in a charming apartment at 41 Ninth street North.

Indications that other Mt. Sterling people plan wintering in St. Petersburg this season is evidenced by the numerous requests made of the St. Petersburg chamber of commerce information bureau for literature descriptive of the "Sunshine City" and its surroundings. That organization is mailing two handsomely illustrated booklets free to those who write for them.

Practically all middle western tourists who will go there this winter will pass through en route on the fast special through trains being operated daily out of Cincinnati by the Southern railroad and known as the "Suwanee Specials." Fully 3,000 middle western tourists have already arrived on that new short cut into the Florida west coast, saving eight hours in running time.

Announcement has just been made of the engagement of the famous Royal Scotch Highlander band of thirty pieces who will play a twelve-week season, starting January 10, giving free concerts twice daily in Williams park. The fourth annual horse shoe pitching tournament for the United States "barnyard golf" championship will be held at St. Petersburg late in February. An effort is now being made to secure the Boston Brave baseball club for its spring training.

HOMIE PHILOSOPHY FOR 1921

What a wonderful fellow that man is who never "makes a mistake." You know him. We all have at least one on our acquaintance list. He cannot conceive that it is human to err, and therefore he permits no one, from the wife down, to doubt anything he says or does. A characteristic of this mighty man is that he insists on personally doing everything that is to be done in his vicinity because there's nobody who can do it right, or anyhow as well, as he. We just simply hold our breath in fear of what will happen to the community when he dies. Of course everything will go to smash. Of course!

Tired

"I was weak and run-down," relates Mrs. Eula Burnett, of Dalton, Ga. "I was thin and just felt tired, all the time. I didn't rest well. I wasn't ever hungry. I knew, by this, I needed a tonic, and as there is none better than—

CARDUI

The Woman's Tonic

"... I began using Cardui," continues Mrs. Burnett. "After my first bottle, I slept better and ate better. I took four bottles. Now I'm well, feel just fine, eat and sleep, my skin is clear and I have gained and sure feel that Cardui is the best tonic ever made."

Thousands of other women have found Cardui just as Mrs. Burnett did. It should help you.

There Is Vigor In Rich Blood

Pepto-Mangan In Liquid or Tablets
—A Blood Builder

Vigor and strength have as their base rich red blood. Blood is rich when there are plenty of red corpuscles. They are the tiny cells which swim in blood and give it its color. Without red corpuscles blood would be white. When overwork or straining or illness weakens the blood it diminishes the number of red cells. Without a sufficient number of red cells the blood becomes watery, the body weak. Vigor and strength fall off, so that physical life diminishes like a fading plant. The physical pleasures of eating and sleeping and exercise lose all attraction. There is no zest in living.

After Gude's Pepto-Mangan has been taken for a while the blood becomes rich with red cells. They help to nourish the entire system. With good blood at work there is a great difference in living. Eating, sleeping and exercise are enjoyed. All druggists sell Gude's Pepto-Mangan.—Advertisement.

THE MULE BAROMETER

Some folks judge the times by the market for diamonds. In Alaska—parts of it, anyway—the business populace watches the price of gold dust. On Wall street they say economic conditions in America go up and down with steel.

But say what they please about the barometric pressure of diamonds, shining gold and hereulean steel, they have to go some to find anything better in barometers than the mule, the gentle mule, the mule with forty-hoss power heels, the mule of our fathers!

The mule as a barometer of business absurd? Listen to what comes from Missouri, which is the home, by the way of that poet, Dr. J. J. Gaines, otherwise "Uncle John."

Just now the mule trade is good in cotton sections, therefore business conditions are improving in the south. Mules for mines aren't selling well, so the coal mining business is slow. Sugar mules are depressed; it follows that there are hard times in the sugar industry. The demand for draft mules is good; accordingly road construction work is booming. Farm mules are quiet, so the farming is quiet; it follows, too, that farm implement manufacturing is slow. Rice mules are in great dumps, so rice farming must be up against it.

But glory be, and best of all, the army mule trade is quite poor because the war industry is at a low ebb!

NEW VACCINE CONTROLS ROUP AND POX OF FOWLS

Successful vaccinations made during the past year by the Kentucky Agricultural Experiment Station on thousands of chickens for the control of roup and chicken pox indicate that these two diseases which are among the most serious ones affecting poultry may be controlled by this method, according to A. J. Steiner, a member of the veterinary science department of the station. The new control has increased in importance with an increase in these two diseases in the state during the present fall as indicated by the numerous inquiries and reports received at the station. Isolation of the infected birds coupled with sanitation was found helpful in controlling the disease in the flocks vaccinated by the station veterinarians.

Roup is a disease of the head and is usually characterized by accumulations of watery fluid in the nostrils and eyes of the bird, this fluid later becoming hard and cheese-like. Its accumulation causes enlargement and deformity of the parts affected. Chicken pox is characterized by tumor-like lesions which appear on the combs, wattles, angles of the beak and face, the eyes and occasionally on the skin. Colds and influenza are two other names by which roup sometimes is known.

It has been demonstrated that chicken pox is caused by a filterable virus, but there is still some work to be done before it can be determined definitely whether or not roup is caused by the same thing, according to Mr. Steiner. The fact that both diseases are usually found combined has led investigators to believe that they may be caused by the same thing. Roup seems to be most prevalent in Kentucky and is accompanied by a certain percentage of pox. Belief of investigators that the two diseases originate from the same cause is strengthened by the fact that vaccines made from roup lesion seems to control both roup and pox, while vaccines made from scabs of pox control both pox and roup. Different methods of making the vaccine are practiced in different states, Kentucky using a combination of the roup lesions and the pox scabs in preparing the vaccine.

ANTI-TRUST VIOLATORS GOING TO PRISON?

Indications that that for the first time since passage of the Sherman act, violators of the anti-trust measure would actually serve time behind prison bars.

Four active members of the Tile, Grate and Mantel Manufacturers and Dealers' Association, who last week pleaded guilty to violation of the act after their methods had been revealed by the Lockwood legislative committee investigating the building trades, received jail sentences from Federal Judge Van Fleet at New York, ranging from two to four months.

United States Attorney Hayward declared that the quartette soon would be on their way to the Essex county, New Jersey, jail, because it would be impossible for them to appeal from the sentences after having pleaded guilty.

F. N. Nobbe, Arthur Shilstone and Albert Schaile were sentenced to four months in the Essex county jail and fined $4,000 each. Herman Petri was sentenced to two months in the same jail and fined $3,500. Twenty-nine other defendants were fined sums ranging from $500 to $5,000. Eleven corporations, composing the combine, were fined $4,000 each and six others were fined from $500 to $2,000.

Most of the firms and individuals sentenced were located in New York. In imposing sentence, Federal Judge Van Fleet said:

"As a result of an inquiry into the facts as to the participation of the various defendants, the court is satisfied that the mere imposition of a fine as to certain of the more flagrant instances will afford no cure; nor act as a deterrent which is the main object of punishment; that while it may be true as urged at the argument that in the past the provisions of the Sherman law authorizing jail sentences have rarely been enforced, the situation presented here is of such character that the time has come to put a stop to these criminal practices and in my judgment the only effective way of doing it is to invoke and bring to life those features of this great act which provide for imprisonment in all instances where the facts warrant it.

"Of course, this does not apply to all the defendants nor indeed to many of them; and, moreover, the court is bound to take strongly into consideration in dealing with the defendants the fact that they have appeared here and pleaded guilty, thus saving the government a long and expensive trial; and while I feel constrained to impose imprisonment on some my judgment even in those instances will be much less severe than upon a conviction after trial. Defendants aware of their guilt but who nevertheless contemptuously stand out on a plea of not guilty are entitled to much less consideration than those who candidly acknowledge guilt and throw themselves upon the mercy of the court."

This real beginning in the great capital state, New York, will have an ending that will be reluctant in lifting a hardship off the great common people.

"There are small combines as well as large ones and all will share alike. Are there any violations of the Sherman act about us? If so, look out, for the time of law enforcement is on."

CATTLE FEEDERS TO STUDY BEEF PRODUCTION METHODS

Cattle feeders in Wayne, Nelson, Daviess, Hart, Boyle, Madison and several other counties are planning to study the methods of the other fellow during the coming year in an effort to improve their methods of producing beef, according to plans for tours being made by Wayland Rhoads, beef cattle extension specialist from the College of Agriculture. The tours will be arranged to allow feeders in a given section of the state to observe practices being followed by feeders in the same section. Parties making the tours will consist largely of farmers who are conducting demonstrations in co-operation with their county agents and the college extension division.

FARM YOUNGSTERS SHOW NEW INTEREST IN CLUBS

Reports of increases in the enrollment of boys and girls in junior agricultural clubs being received by club authorities at the College of Agriculture from county agents indicate that farm youngsters of the state are showing increased interest in the projects outlined for them in this work. Among the latest reports are those from Breathitt, Lawrence and Jackson counties, the county agents of which anticipate an increase in this year's enrollment over that of last year. In most cases the work is being carried on through the co-operation of school teachers, many of whom have reported a record enrollment from their district.

WASTE STRAW AND STOVER ARE RICH IN PLANT FOOD

Fertility contained in straw, corn stover and other crop residues will benefit soils as much as that purchased in the form of commercial fertilizers, provided careful attention is given to these materials and care taken to see that they are placed on the soil where the plant food may be utilized, soils and crops specialists say. Nearly 1,000,000 tons of straw and 1,500,000 tons of waste corn stover which are not consumed as feed become a part of the manure produced and constitute an important factor in keeping up the yields on Kentucky farms, according to R. E. Stephenson, soils specialist at the College of Agriculture.

That the abundant use of these materials as bedding does not reduce the value of the manure is shown by the fact that a ton of straw contains as much nitrogen, nearly as much phosphorus and more than twice as much potash as a ton of manure. Stover is even richer, containing one and three-fourths times as much nitrogen and twice as much potash as manure. Stems of legumes such as clover and soybeans which sometimes go back into the manure contains four times as much nitrogen, two to three times as much phosphorus and about four times as much potash as manure. Similar things are true in regard to the high manurial value of residues of these various crops left in the field at harvest time.

Using commercial fertilizer valuations for plant food a ton of corn stover contains a little more than $5 worth of plant food, a ton of clover more than $7 worth, a ton of straw almost $5 and a ton of average manure nearly $3 worth. In view of these facts it is important in keeping up the fertility of the farm to conserve these residues rather than burn them in the field or otherwise allow them to go to waste, and lose all of the organic matter together with most of the nitrogen which they contain, according to Mr. Stephenson. When everything is plowed under the smallest loss in plant food takes place and much needed organic matter is added to the soil.

It may not be any of our business, but we think it would be a good idea for the teachers in our public schools to advise the children to be careful as possible when crossing streets, to take no chances with automobiles; to be watching for cars at intersections, and to help smaller children across the streets. Accidents may happen to the most careful drivers in the city. But automobile accidents would be reduced to the minimum if the automobile drivers would exercise the greatest amount of care and caution. Children might wait for an automobile to get by, but children are children, and automobile drivers should look out for them, even more than the children look out for themselves. It is hoped that the drivers of cars will show due consideration for the rights of children, and especially school children.

BACK TO HIS LIKING

In this issue of The Advocate is an announcement from Walter H. Wright, saying he will open a new store of fresh stock to the public the coming Saturday. Walter Wright is a good merchant and popular man. We have every reason to believe he will be a success. He has succeeded when business was not as favorable as now. Then, why not now? There was a time when he counted his friends by the hundred and now it can be done by the thousand. His friends will come to him and his will be a brighter success than ever before.

NOT A NEW HOTEL FOR 1921

The year 1921 is drawing to a close without favorable signs of a new hotel project. May we ask, What is the matter?

Mt. Sterling surely needs a modern hotel. Rest assured of that; if Mt. Sterling is to have a new hotel Mt. Sterling must furnish the capital. Should we undertake to interest outside capital, it would be without results, for capital is not easily interested in a community which hasn't sufficient faith in its own future to invest some of its own money in its modern hotel.

ANOTHER FACTORY FOR MT. STERLING

W. T. Hunt and Earl Henry have secured a room and established a butter making plant. We have tried the product and pronounce it the best. The churn installed has a capacity of 150 pounds to the churning. In addition to this, the firm will make cheese and soon other products will be added. This is a real business, for it starts money on its rounds. This plant is located on East High street, and is known as the Jersey Cream Products Company.

MENEFEE COUNTY COMING

Menefee county land owners know the need of good roads and the farmers neither have to be begged nor coaxed to give the rights of way. They know their duties and are glad to perform them. The rights of way have been granted and engineers are on the field ready to begin work. What about Montgomery county?

TWELVE STARS IN "AFFAIRS OF ANATOL"

Twelve stellar players and a supporting cast of unrivalled quality—that's the record set by Cecil B. De Mille's latest Paramount masterpiece. "The Affairs of Anatol," which will be shown at the Tabb Theatre on next Monday and Tuesday. The roster reads like screenland's who's who. The phrase "all-star cast" is a much abused one, but it adequately describes a cast that includes Wallace Reid, Gloria Swanson, Elliott Dexter, Bebe Daniels, Monte Blue, Wanda Hawley, Theodore Roberts, Agnes Ayres, Theodore Kosloff, Polly Moran, Raymond Hatton and Julia Faye.

Nothing like this cast in the way of aggregate talent has ever been assembled before. The drawing power of almost any of the names on the roll has been sufficient to awaken interest in the discriminating public. Here, for the first time, they are appearing in a single production under the direction of a master producer—Cecil B. De Mille. "The Affairs of Anatol" was written by Jeanie MacPherson, author of many notable Cecil B. De Mille productions. Her story was suggested by Arthur Schnitzler's scintillating comedy of the same name.

The same quality that is featured in the cast of principals and in the authorship has been carried through every phrase, of production work. The supporting cast includes many capable actors known to all screen devotees.

For Printing, see The Advocate.

TEDDY'S "BEST CHIEF" GOES ON HIGHER

Since election day there has been a disposition in other big cities to sneer at Cleveland—the fifth city in size—for electing a former chief of police to the exalted place of mayor.

But it is not freakiness—there is a reason.

Back some fifteen or sixteen years ago Theodore Roosevelt, then president, rather shocked the conceited metropolitan cities with this declaration: "The city of Cleveland has the best chief of police in the United States." And Theodore knew. Besides having been police commissioner of New York, he was himself—in effect—one of the best policemen the country ever had.

All right. A few years ago this best chief of police was "framed" off the force by unscrupulous politicians. As an answer the people of Cleveland elected him county commissioner twice by enormous majorities. Whereupon he became the best county commissioner Cuyahoga county ever had.

That's the record of ex-Chief of Police Fred Kohler, the newly elected mayor of Cleveland.

It is not freakiness for the people of a big city to elect a man to manage their affairs who has twice made good for them. They just simply voted for Kohler in expectation that he would turn out to be the best mayor they ever had.

Growers Not In Pool Have a Chance To Sign

In order that every tobacco grower in the burley district who has not had an opportunity to sign the contract of the Burley Tobacco Growers' Co-operative Association heretofore may have a chance to join the association and pledge his tobacco crop to it before the association finally closes its books, the committee on elections has directed that these men be given opportunity to sign before the calling of the elections for the choice of delegates and directors.

The time set for the signing up by these outside growers has been fixed for the fifteen days between November 26 and December 10. The decision to reopen the books for the benefit of those who have not yet signed is contained in a letter sent by Organization Manager Passonneau to the county chairmen in the district, as follows:

Lexington, Ky., Nov. 23, 1921.

Dear Sir: As you know, there are a large number of tobacco growers who for some reason or other failed to sign the marketing contract prior to November 15. Regardless of what that reason was, it seems to be the belief that these men should be given an opportunity to sign the contract before the primaries for the election of delegates are held.

The committee on elections has voted that fifteen days should be given for the signing up of these outside men. The time chosen is from Saturday morning, November 26, until 12 o'clock Saturday night, December 10.

I believe that everyone who has not signed the contract should be offered the opportunity to do so. With a little additional effort on the part of the workers it should be possible to make the association 95 per cent strong during these fifteen days.

Very truly yours,
JOSEPH PASSONNEAU,
Organization Manager

THE DOVE OF PEACE DANGERS

The American people are for peace with the world and for world peace, and there is widespread approval of the good start that has been made at the armament conference in the City of Washington.

It is to be hoped that nothing will spring up out of the darkness which we call future to interrupt the development of the movement for peace and god will. But let us not forget that there are clouds that may expand in an uncomfortable way.

Japan, finding America and England a unit for limited armament, must make a show of agreement. But Japan is as militaristic as Germany was. Her leaders are warriors by instinct and inheritance and her people—in the mass—are willing followers of those leaders.

Let's come nearer home. The treaty at Paris was agreed to without reckoning with Congress which had the final say. Already people are beginning to say that the power of deciding on what our navy shall be is vested in the constitution in Congress, and not in the administrators of government. It is declared that neither our armament delegates nor our state department can make any agreement with foreign countries as to the size of our navy should be; nor can they carry out any promise as to the scrapping of ships.

There has been a distressing example of the results of flaunting Congress. It is probable that in view of what has passed, statesmen will avoid another such squabble. We hope there will be no squabble over "peace on earth."

WHISTLE, BROTHER!

In this old world, so interspersed with barren crags and sandy dunes, I keep my frenzied system nursed with warbled, harped or whistled tunes. When I am seized with grim despair, or when my conscience lashes me—when critics grab me by the hair, or finance puts me up a tree—O, then I tune my ripened throat, or press my fiddle's amorous string—a throbbin' ream awaits my choice—a rotten jazz or classic thing! And presently the clouds that thrust their hateful darkness o'er my soul, will vanish in the whirligig of Highland fling, of Barcarole. O, feller-traveler, bent with toil, and mehhe, prayin' for sneeze—like water on the troubled oil, the Irish jig will bring you peace! When hill collectors take their toll, and leave me naught but wads of grief, old Yandle Doodle cheers my soul—you can't imagine my relief! Then, whistle, brother, when you're sad, or when you lose your grip—a rotten whistle ain't as bad as trampin' on your under-lip!

SIMPLICITY SHOWS
TRUE THANKSGIVING

Reducing the frills of the usual Thanksgiving dinner and increasing the attention paid to home or community activities on that day is a logical way in which Americans can celebrate the holiday in fitting style, according to Miss Maybelle Cornell, head of the home economics department of the College of Agriculture. While certain foods are particularly appropriate for the day it is neither wise nor necessary in carrying out the traditions of the day to sacrifice all else in order to heap the table with burdens of rich and many times improper food. Church services in the morning, followed by a simple but well-prepared dinner at noon and appropriate home amusements in the afternoon and evening constitute a celebration that will most nearly approach that of the colonial settlers, according to Miss Cornell.

"Since the day is supposed to be one of real thanksgiving for the many benefits enjoyed during the past year a short church service in the morning is an ideal way in which to begin the day," Miss Cornell said. "A union service of a number of churches with inspiring music, appropriate prayers and talks will not only place the day on record as one of real thanksgiving but also will provide an inspirational meeting from which much community thinking should result."

"One should remember that the real feast is one in which food is of superior quality and properly prepared and that the arrangement of it in true American style calls for simplicity. A suitable menu for the feast may include grape fruit baskets, baked turkey with dressing and gravy, cranberry jelly, candied sweet potatoes, creamed cauliflower, tomato jelly with celery, individual plum puddings with hard sauce, nuts, raisins and coffee. Another may include tomato soup, celery, roast pork, tenderloin, stuffed baked potatoes, onions in cream, baked squash, pear salad, French dressing, pumpkin pie, currant jelly, nuts, raisins and coffee."

"Following the close of Thanksgiving dinner the true homemaker has an opportunity to come forward with some sort of program with which to conclude the festivities of the day. Invited friends of both the children and older members of the family can constitute a group which should obtain real Thanksgiving enjoyment from popping or parching corn, staging short one-act plays, making taffy or telling stories connected with the traditions of the day."

PROFIT FOR FARMERS IN HOME BUTCHERING

Under present conditions the home butchering and curing of meats should be highly profitable to Kentucky farmers, provided proper attention is given to the many important details connected with these processes, says Mr. E. J. Wilford, a member of the animal husbandry staff of the College of Agriculture. High freight rates combined with numerous handling charges make packing house products unreasonably expensive when the price of these is compared with the price which farmers receive for animals on foot, Mr. Wilford said. Home killing and curing of meats during what is usually a slack season on the farm will make it possible for farmers to take advantage of the profits enjoyed by middlemen and at the same time obtain a product which should be superior for home use to that from the packing houses. In Kentucky butchering is done any time after Thanksgiving, a temperature of 36 to 38 degrees being cold enough to cool the meat properly.

Health, condition, quality, age and weight are the important things to look for in the animal which is to be butchered on the farm. Care should be taken to see that the animal which is slaughtered is healthy since there is danger of transmitting disease from the animal to the person who eats the meat. Signs of tuberculosis and cholera as well as indications of fever or other abnormalities should be watched for carefully.

Animals in high condition that are not losing flesh at the time they are slaughtered usually produce the best meats. Animals which are gaining weight rapidly at the time they are killed usually yield the best quality of meat. On the other hand, extreme condition increases the lard yield

AIR ROUTE 'ROUND THE WORLD

One of the most interesting and unusual novelties afforded the A. I. G. Field minstrels this season is the highly spectacular and diverting episode, "Around the World in Thirty Minutes." Theater-goers of Mt. Sterling have something to look forward to when the production is seen at the Tabb Theatre soon, and the novelty has been pronounced one of the most successful hits of the season by seasoned patrons of the stage.

The company boards the airship at an aerial station in New York City, hops off on its globe-encircling flight and make stops at such interesting places as Scotland, the Land of Bobbie Burns; Japan, the Land of Cherry Blossoms; the Land of the Midnight Sun, with its Esquimaux and polar bear; Africa, the habitat of the Hottentot. The finale finds the tourists back in New York, safely home again.

Bert Swor as the pilot of the aircraft; Jimmie Cooper, as its mechanic; Harry Shunk, Johnny Healy and the rest of that famous crew of Field funsters have important parts in making this event memorable.

Since the grandmothers have begun wearing short skirts the flighty young girls should be vindicated.

CHILL WEATHER REQUIRES CARE IN MARKETING HOGS

Special care is necessary at this time of the year to avoid losses by overheating and subsequently chilling hogs being sent to the market, according to marketing specialists at the College of Agriculture. There is serious danger that animals which are overbeaten while being loaded will become chilled on their way to market with the result that they catch cold and sell at a disadvantage, the specialists say. Careless loading, hard driving and mistreatment of the animals must be guarded against carefully, they say.

SUFFER PAIN?

Heed This Woman's Advice.

Springdale, Ky. — "I was in a run-down condition and every month suffered pain. I had taken treatments for feminine trouble, but seemed to get no results from the treatments. It was through my daughter-in-law that I heard of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and decided I would try it. I took a few doses when at her home in Illinois, and when I came home I took it regularly. It surely helped me very much. I can say that 'Favorite Prescription' is a very good remedy for women in a run-down condition or if troubled with feminine trouble." — Mrs. Henry Soward, Route 1.

If you have the above-mentioned symptoms, you should profit by Mrs. Soward's advice, and get the "Prescription" from your druggist at once. To be had in tablets or liquid; or write Dr. Pierce's Invalids' Hotel in Buffalo, N. Y. for free medical advice.

HONEY PHILOSOPHY FOR 1921

What good is there in any plan that breaks down under the very conditions it was called up to face? In every single phase of life this living world plans are adopted only for the purpose of making the conditions of the matter at hand better. When they don't they are swiftly thrown into the discard. Lenin, in admitting the utter failure of Communism in Russia, blames the failure on the conditions it had to face. Out of his own mouth, therefore, he admitted that the plan called communism is no good—therefore, an useless, dead one. Shovel in the dirt, men!

ROWAN COUNTY NEWS

By S. S. Cassity

Born, to Judge Allie W. Young and wife, November 26, a fine baby boy. We are still strong for Judge Young for Kentucky's next governor.

Hon. F. P. Blair, retired merchant and capitalist, and ex-member of the Kentucky legislature, played a "dirty Irish trick" on his many friends here about two months ago when he slipped over to Ringo's Mill in Fleming county and married Mrs. Lula Hinton, a handsome and worthy widow of that place. It has just now leaked out and Pierce no longer denies it.

County Clerk W. T. Caudill reports the following recent marriages: L. T. Perkins and Cora L. Caudill; George Sparkman and Maude Johnson; Fred Wyatt and Goldie Lewis; S. C. Candill and Myrtle Toliver.

The Baptist church has called the Rev. Mr. Smith of near Ashland, to preach the coming year. He has accepted the call and will locate with his family here about the first of the year.

The Red Cross pageant at Burgess Hall under the management of Miss VanMeter was a decided success and added about 150 new members to the local chapter. Every one acted his or her part well, especially Jailer Grant Ramey and Mrs. C. V. Waltz, who played the part of old pensioners.

Miss Marie Myers, of Salt Lick, has been visiting Miss Della Waltz the past week.

Attorney E. Hogge was in Frenchburg the past week attending to legal business.

H. M. Logan, Squire Hogge, Mrs. J. A. Nickell and Mrs. Frances Vansant are all convalescent. Judge Carey is dangerously ill.

The Kentucky Fire Brick Company is operating both its large plants at Haldeman.

A young man named Alfrey fatally shot himself by accident while hunting over on the Licking river.

Saturday night hoozing is not in evidence so much as it was before Judge Prewitt's last session of court here. Judge Prewitt and the grand jury "stirred up the monkeys" and Sheriff N. L. Wells and A. W. Fraley have kept them moving. Occasionally, however, some young boozier gets into the city or county court charged with drunkenness, and gets out by swearing he was "duly sober, and had not seen, bought or drunk a 'drop o' the craytur" since old Heck was a pup."

Perhaps it's no worse here than elsewhere but it is actually alarming to note the brazen lies that everybody knows are sworn in connection with drunkenness, moonshining and bootlegging. We hope Judge Prewitt will give rigid instruction on this class of crime to the next grand jury and that the new county officers will give their best support to the court and juries as the outgoing officers have done and ere long lawlessness will be minimized in Rowan county.
